

Guidelines for review of articles submitted to the Clean Air Journal

For review of articles submitted to the Clean Air Journal, reviewers are requested to assess the article based on the following criteria. It would be helpful if this template is used, as it will facilitate the provision of feedback to the authors.

A) Name of Reviewer (this will be excised from comments provided to authors)

--

B) Comments to Editors (this will be excised from comments provided to authors)

--

1) Is the article suitable to be published in the Clean Air Journal (please check the most suitable box)

Yes, it can be published without revisions
Yes, subject to minor revisions, no further review required
Yes, subject to major revisions, resubmit article for review
No
Reviewer Comments:

2) Relevance to the scope of the Clean Air Journal (Does the article address issues related to air quality, air quality management and the impacts of air pollution in South and southern Africa?)

Please insert comment here:

- 3) Scientific Quality (is the article of suitable scientific quality for publication? Please consider in terms of factual correctness, methods used and the validity of conclusions drawn from the findings presented?)

Please insert comment here:

- 4) Originality (is the article original, will it add to the knowledge or understanding of issues related to air quality, air quality management and the impacts of air pollution in South and southern Africa?)

Please insert comments here:

- 5) Quality of text, tables and figures (is the quality of the text, tables and figures suitable for publication, a general assessment to be provided here with specific points to be included in section 6)

Please insert comment here:

- 6) General Comments (any comments of a general nature that the reviewer wishes to add)

Please insert comment here:

- 7) Specific Comments (please refer to the specific line in the text, figure or table)

Please insert comment here: